1-4. Preparing Communications for Dispatch. Place the organization name, functional address symbol (FAS), and geographic location or APO number on the envelope as shown in AFR 10-1. The term Headquarters is a part of the official title of units at group level and above in accordance with AFR 26-2. Use Headquarters (HQ) as part of the mailing address when corresponding with staff elements at MAJCOM and HQ USAF organizations. HQ is optional in the mailing address for units below MAJCOM. Don't use the term Headquarters when corresponding with the Office of the Commander, Vice Commander or Chief of Staff. Include the Air Force functional address symbol as a part of the address element (see AFR 10-6). For addresses not containing a nine-digit zip code, see chapter 19 for add-ons assigned by function. 16-2. Instructions for Classified Material:

a. To prepare classified matter for mailing to a NATO command see AFR 205-43.

b. The authority for release of US classified matter to NATO foreign nationals and US Representatives assigned to NATO activities is HQ USAF/CVAI, Washington DC 20330. Forward the material to HQ USAF/CVAI for approval and release.
EXCEPTION: Certain US Air Force activities have the authority to release certain categories of classified matter directly to NATO commanders under SACEUR. These Air Force activities address the classified matter as follows, unless they also have authority to communicate directly with a subordinate NATO command: US National Military Representative SHAPE, APO New York 09055.

c. Address classified matter to Navy activities not listed here according to the Standard Navy Distribution List, Part I.

d. To prepare classified matter sent through the Defense Courier Service (DCS), see AFR 205-43.

Chapter 17

GEOGRAPHICAL LISTING OF INSTALLATIONS AND UNITS

Some MAJCOMs,SOAs, and large activities operate mail distribution systems independent of the Host Base, and receive direct consolidated container mail, bypassing the Base Information Transfer Center (BITC). On installations where this occurs, the dispatching BITC must decide the activity to receive direct pouch service. Section C of this chapter lists organizations that provide independent distribution systems and includes the addressees that receive consolidated container mail. MAJCOMs and SOAs report changes to this list to SAF/AADA, Wash DC 20330-1000.

Sections A and B of this chapter contain locations of major Air Force installations with organizations down to detachment level. Host-base support organizations are in bold type. This provides easy reference for locating a number of support functions, i.e., Base Administration, Personnel (CBPO), Housing Referral, and other service activities. BITCs, or the Base Administrative Communications Branch (DAAC), will find this useful for determining where to send consolidated containers when processing more than one piece of mail to one location. DOD 4525.8M/AFR 4-50 describes procedures for preparing consolidated containers.
